Game Commission Extends Antlerless Deer Season To Three Days This Year

Harrisburg, (AP)—The State Game Commission yesterday fixed a three-day season in December for hunting antlerless deer, the longest such special season in history.

A spokesman said the two-day season of each 1950 and 1951 was extended to three days this year to thin out Pennsylvania's deer herd, now estimated at about a half million.

Robert Reed, director of public relations for the commission, estimated there is one buck for five to six does in the state.

The antlerless deer season was fixed for Dec. 15, 16 and 17. The buck season will, as in other years, be on a two-week basis, Dec. 1 through 13.

Hunters seeking to hunt antlerless deer will have to pay $1.15 for a special license in addition to the regular $3.15 hunting license. The antlerless deer license must be purchased in the county where the applicant will hunt antlerless deer. Quotas for the counties will be announced later.

For archers, the commission fixed the period from Oct. 13 through 25 for male deer only. The bow-and-arrow license costs $2.

The bag limit for any or all three deer seasons is one deer. The deer season will take place Nov. 17 through 22, with a bag limit of one deer per hunter.

The small game season opens Nov. 1 as in other years. It closes Nov. 15 for bobwhite quail, but continues through Nov. 29 for ruffed grouse, wild turkeys, ringneck pheasants, cottontail rabbits and gray, black and fox squirrels.

Butler has been added to the list of counties to turkey hunting. The others are Adams, Armstrong, Fayette, Greene, Mercer, Somerset, Venango, Westmoreland and York.

Bag limits of small game, for the most part, are the same as last year.

The game commission also authorized year-round hunting of red squirrels and woodchucks or groundhogs, except for the month of October.

23 GOP Governors Step Into Row Over Contested Delegates

73 Fresh Air Children To Arrive July 9

Next Wednesday will be a big day for 73 children from the metropolitan area of New York.

That's the day set for the arrival of "Fresh Air" youths from the cramped, congested and overheated sectors of the city to the cool, moderate Pocono Mountains.

The train carrying the youngsters will pull into East Stroudsburg at 12:21 p. m. Wednesday, July 9.

A committee consisting of Mrs. Walter Caulfield, and Mrs. H. T. Slaboski will be on hand to meet the visitors, assisted by two young East Stroudsburg girls.

The committee members will escort their charges to buses contributed by Leslie Drake which will then transport them to Stroudsburg's Gordon Giffels stadium, where local "Fresh Air" officials say they will be "tagged" with their own names and the names of their hosts for the two-week period.

Mrs. John Stanford and Mrs. Roy Hauser will have charge of taking the children off the buses and installing them in previously determined "places" in the grandstand. Refreshments will be served immediately following the arrival by a committee consisting of Mrs. Merle Ostrom, Mrs. William Gorton, Mrs. Glenn Lowry and Mrs. Edward Hess.

Both Boy and Girl Scouts will be on hand to show the visiting young men and women to the lavatories at the stadium.

Joe Webster, WVPO program director, will act as "master-of-ceremonies" during the proceedings which follow when the names of the children and their hosts are called out over a loudspeaking system.

E. M. Rahn will assist in the identification process. Then, and only then, the 73 guests will be free to begin their two-week vacation in the Poconos.

Army Moves To Replace 700,000 Men

Washington, (AP)—The Army acted yesterday to replace about 700,000 soldiers who will complete their service terms in the coming 12 months.

In simultaneous announcements the Army forecast stepped-up draft quotas beginning in October and ordered all units in the United States to produce trained enlisted men to take the place of overseas veterans.

A September draft call for 30,000 men was coupled with an estimated requirement for 54,000 draftees in each of the last three months of this year. This latter figure is the highest number of conscripts requested by the Army since March, 1951.

Neither the increased draft call nor the levy will increase the Army's overall strength. Both moves were prompted by the necessity to maintain the authorized manpower total and the number of combat divisions and units during the government year which started July 1.

The Army entered the fiscal year with an overall strength of 1,558,000 and plans to finish the year with a reduction of 8,000.

The Army now maintains 20 active combat divisions, including eight National Guard Divisions. Six of these divisions, including two National Guard divisions, are serving in Korea and two Regular Army divisions are now in Japan.

Major Steel Firms Take United Stand

Pittsburgh, (AP)—A source close to several major steel companies said last night they have decided at a secret meeting to maintain their solid front against the CIO United Steelworkers' demands for a union shop.

The source, who refused to allow his name to be used, declared: "The meeting was held in Cleveland yesterday."

"The executives of several major steel companies took a united stand on the union shop issue. They decided they can not and must not back down in their insistence that their workers must be allowed to work whether they are members of the union or whether they are not members."

It was learned several companies, in addition to "Big Six," companies were represented at the meeting. The "Big Six," making up a major part of the industry is composed of U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, Jones & Laughlin, Youngstown Sheet and Tube and Inland.

Dewey Expects Switch Of 40 To Eisenhower

Chicago, (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey said last night he expects 40 delegates now committed to Sen. Robert A. Taft will switch to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower after the first ballot at the Republican convention.

Dewey made the statement to reporters after arriving by air from the Houston governors convention to lend a hand to Eisenhower's campaign for the party's presidential nomination.

The New York governor, twice his party's nominee for the presidency, said he based his estimate of switches from the Taft delegation on talks he had with others at the Houston convention. He did not go into detail.

But he said even some of the governors supporting Taft signed yesterday's petition by 23 GOP governors assailing some of Taft's pre-convention procedures.

HST Bids For Southern Votes

Bull Shoals Dam, Ark., (AP)—President Truman yesterday opened his 1952 whistle-stop drive for the Democrats with an all-out bid for Southern votes and what he rescribed as a preview of the party's platform.

In a speech dedicating two big hydro-electric power dams, Truman told his Southern audience that Roosevelt's New Deal and his own so-called "Fair Deal" have done more for the South than any other administrations in U. S. history.

As for his opponents, Truman said they "keep yapping about 'socialism' and a lot of other silly slogans to try to stop every measure for the good of the people."

Senate Approves Fair Trade Bill

Washington, (AP)—The Senate last night passed the "fair trade" bill, 64-16, and sent it to the White House.

The measure permits manufacturers to fix minimum prices on articles at the retail level.

Endorse U. S. Proposal

United Nations, N. Y., (AP)—A majority of the Security Council yesterday endorsed an American proposal for a full on-the-spot investigation of Red germ warfare charges, but Russia's Jacob A. Malik sat silent and unheeding, firm in his determination to veto the proposal when a vote is taken.

No Paper Tomorrow

In keeping with a custom of long standing, The Daily Record will not be published tomorrow, July Fourth, so that its employees may observe the holiday.

Full news and picture coverage of local, state, national and world happenings will be found in Saturday's edition of The Record.

3 American Priests Held By Russians

Berlin, (AP)—Three touring American priests and their German woman driver were snatched up on the Berlin border by rifle-wielding Communist police yesterday and rushed into Russian captivity.

The three young priests, from the Chicago diocese, were wearing their clerical collars when they strayed a few feet over the line into the Soviet zone and pointed a camera at a Russian officer.

He immediately ordered a black-boated Communist police detachment into action and they forced the priests' car behind a Soviet checkpoint barrier. The car was confiscated.

The United States immediately demanded the release of the four captives.

J. J. J. Norris of Elizabeth, N.J., European director for the National Catholic Welfare Conference at Frankfurt, listed the four as Martin Borowczyk, George Gorski, Bronislaw Sokolowski, and Mrs. Katherine Wintzler, the mother of two children and a Berlin employee of NCWC.

Norris said the three priests, "all in their 30s," attended the World Eucharistic Congress in Barcelona, Spain, and were touring Germany while on leave from their diocese. They were described as American born of Polish descent.

"We are greatly concerned," said Norris.

The priests arrived by train from Frankfurt yesterday morning for several days of sightseeing in Berlin and were met by Mrs. Wintzler. She began a tour with them in a car bearing an American license.

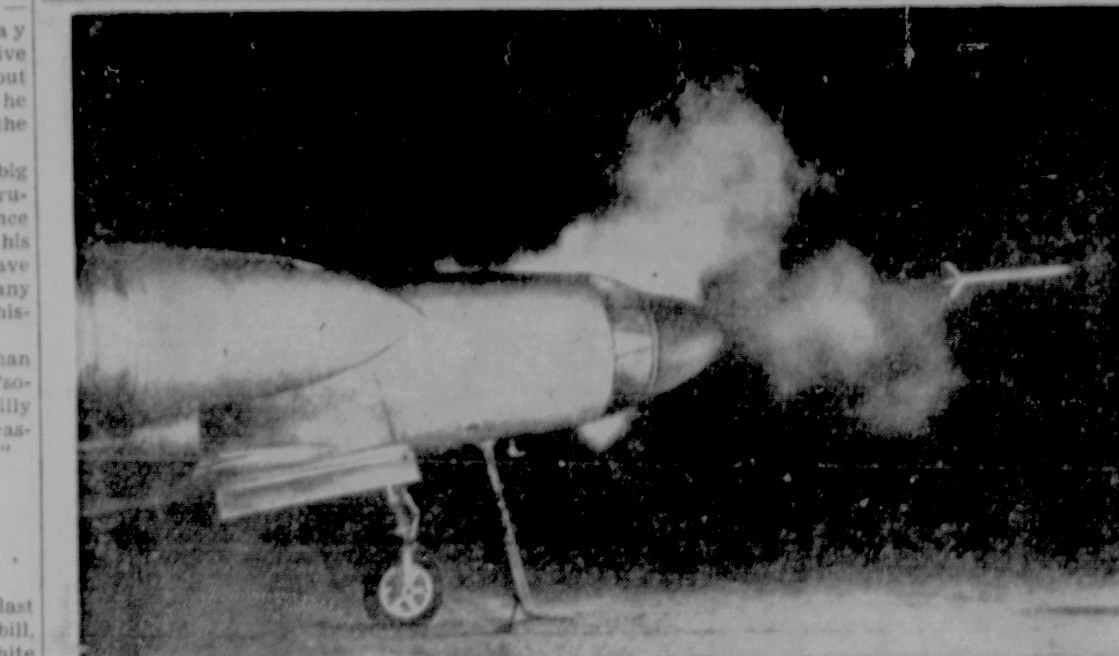

At Dusseldorf, the car crossed a row of metal studs in the road marking the exact boundary between the American sector and the Russian zone and rolled up to the white and red barrier at a Soviet checkpoint.

The visitors started to take pictures and the camera-shy Russian officer excitedly ordered his blue-uniformed East German police into action.

They surrounded the car, pointed their rifles at the heads of the occupants and forced Mrs. Wintzler to drive it into the Soviet zone.

Money Bills Passed

Washington, (AP)—Congress passed and sent to the President last night four bills appropriating more than $5 billion dollars for various government departments and agencies.

DURING TEST-FIRE EXERCISES at the Muroc, Calif., Air Base, a rocket streaks into the night from the "Starfire," new jet warplane intended for the air defense of the U. S. There are 24 such missiles in the first plane ever designed with all-rocket armament, and they're housed in a ring of firing tubes around its nose. Radar and other "specialized" instruments enable the "Starfire" to spot the enemy miles away, get on its track and open fire in the best of robot style. After taking off, the pilot and radar operator are guided to the target area by ground radar. At the proper time a twist of a switch puts the "electronic crew" into action, the rocket-control apparatus releases the attack weapons, and then the plane lands.

USAF Unveils All-Rocket Jet Fighter Plane

Washington, (AP)—A jet fighter entirely without guns—but bristling with rockets—was announced yesterday by the Air Force.

The new plane, the Lockheed F94C Starfire, has been made so nearly automatic through the use of radar and mechanical brains that it spots the enemy miles away, locks onto the target, tracks, closes, aims and opens fire—all by itself.

The pilot and radar operator do little more than take the plane off, bring it to the general target area and then switch on the

Taft Forces Capture All 17 Georgia Votes, Set Sights On First Ballot Nomination

By The Associated Press

Sen. Robert A. Taft's forces captured 17 Georgia votes yesterday in the great pre-convention battle with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination.

By way of small-fry consolation, Eisenhower was granted the nod on a single disputed delegate from Kansas.

The big fight was over Georgia's 17 votes at the GOP convention opening in Chicago next Monday.

With Taft men in clear control, the Republican National Committee rode roughshod over a predominantly pro-Eisenhower delegation from Georgia—a faction which had represented the state since 1944—and ruled in favor of a solidly pro-Taft delegation.

The Eisenhower camp announced it would appeal to the convention Credentials Committee, and to the convention itself if necessary.

Setting his sights on a first ballot victory at the national convention, Taft told newsmen: "There may not be a second ballot."

Republican platform drafters at Chicago, meanwhile, were reported approaching agreement on a foreign policy plank spelling out a fiery indictment of President Truman's "failures" to halt world Communism.

The plank is expected to attack Truman's foreign policies as negative and designed only to "contain" communism within its present bounds.

Angry cries of "steamroller" erupted from the Eisenhower camp after the Taft-controlled GOP National Committee swung Georgia's 17 votes to the Ohio senator.

Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., of Massachusetts, Eisenhower's campaign manager, called the decision as "another Texas steal"—a reference to claims, denied by Taft, that Taft forces are trying to steal the 38-vote Texas delegation.

"No wonder the Taft-dominated National Committee wants to keep television, newsreels and radios out of the committee sessions," Lodge said.

And in Houston, Tex., Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York warned that the Republican nomination won't be worth a nickel if a "shambles" develops in the bitter fight over rival Taft and Eisenhower delegations to the GOP convention.

Truman Returns

Washington, (AP)—President Truman landed at Washington National Airport at 10:05 last night, returning from a trip to Arkansas to dedicate two new power dams.

Demand Bar To Voting In Disputes

Houston, Tex., (AP)—Twenty-three Republican governors voiced yesterday a powerful demand to bar contested delegates from voting on the admission of disputed delegates to the Republican National Convention.

In a surprise move that was regarded here as a heavy blow at the presidential nomination hopes of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, the governors said in a statement any other course would put the party "under a serious moral cloud."

Both supporters of Taft and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Ohioan's chief rival for the nomination, joined in the statement.

Gov. Allan Shivers, Democrat of Texas, was elected new chairman of the conference, succeeding Republican Gov. Val Peterson of Nebraska.

Shivers told reporters he hoped to continue the non-partisan policies of the conference which ended for the year with his election and the adoption of resolutions.

The issue of whether contested delegations—seated temporarily in the convention by action of the Taft-controlled GOP National Committee—can vote on the admission of themselves and other disputed groups may influence the final decision for the party nomination.

There are now 72 delegates in the dispute from seven states in the battle between Taft and Eisenhower for the nomination.

Taft controls the machinery of the convention, opening Monday in Chicago. One of his delegates, Walter Hallahan of West Virginia, is in a position as temporary chairman to rule on whether the temporarily-seated delegations can vote on contests. His ruling can be appealed to the convention itself.

In a telegram addressed to Guy G. Gabrielson, national chairman, convention officials and all the candidates, the 23 Republican governors said that the good name of the party can only be upheld "if no contested delegation is permitted to vote on the question of seating any contested delegation."

"To win in 1952 the Republican party must make it clear to the people of the United States that it offers an inspiring and welcome alternative to the corruption, political favoritism and lack of moral integrity which now exists in the national administration."

"It can do so only if the Republican nominee enters the campaign with clean hands . . ."

These strong words of the governors were regarded as likely to have a telling impact on the convention officials, especially since they were subscribed to by Gov. Earl Warren of California, himself a candidate for the nomination.

Hallahan has insisted that the convention is operating at the start under rules adopted in 1948 and cannot bar contested delegates from voting on the seating of disputed representatives from other states.

The fact that the governors' statement was subscribed to by both Taft and Eisenhower supporters was expected to increase its impact on the Chicago convention officials.

Gov. J. Bracken Lee of Utah, a Taft backer, joined Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado, an Eisenhower supporter, in reading the statement to reporters.

Eisenhower is the choice of a majority of the GOP state executives attending the annual Governors Conference here. Taft's backers largely have been silent on political issues.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, one of the chief Eisenhower supporters, expressed surprise that GOP National Committee had recognized 17 delegates from Georgia who are predominantly for Taft. He said that indicated the Taft people intend to go all out.

Radio Guild Strikes

New York, (AP)—Radio writers struck at three major networks yesterday, posing a threat to television and radio coverage of the Republican and Democratic conventions in Chicago.

Offer Revealed

Cleveland, (AP)—A top union negotiator disclosed yesterday he had offered to end the strike at Republic Steel Corp. if the firm would sign a contract patterned after the Pittsburgh Steel Co. agreement.

Mrs. Henry Heads Slate Of Officers

Henryville — Mrs. Sallie Henry was elected president of the board of trustees of Pocono Union Church Cemetery here Sunday afternoon at a meeting held prior to the session of the church council of administration.

Others elected, all for one-year terms, are Paul Barry, secretary, and Mrs. Vida Slickler, treasurer. Rev. C. F. Spangenberg, pastor, presided for the church meeting and volunteered to furnish and install an electric clock in the church. His offer was accepted by council members.

Board of trustees was asked to consider the bid of Henry Baumann of $50 for furnishing paint and equipment to paint the church.

Paul Barry, in his treasurer's statement, disclosed payments; donation of $7.19 to the Evangelical Home for the Aged and that $21.82 was realized for expanded missions. Mrs. Agnes Wagner reported the Ladies Aid Society contributed $30 for church repairs.

Permission was granted Rev. Spangenberg to attend the July 20 meeting at Bowmanstown camp. A supply pastor will fill the pulpit at the local church that Sunday.

Quarterly calendar specified August 31 as the date for expanded missions offering; September 7 as Harvest Home and fuel offering; September 21, college and seminary offering; September 28, Rally Day in Sunday School; October 5, World-wide communion with services returning to the morning schedule that Sunday; October 26, home coming service at 2:30 and 7:30 p. m.

Rev. Spangenberg was instructed to arrange for a speaker for the home coming service. It was suggested Rev. Russell be contacted. It also was decided to establish a committee for the home coming service at the next meeting September 3 at 8 p. m.

Richard Post offered closing prayer. Others attending were Mrs. Agnes Wagner, Mrs. Lettie Wood, Mrs. Post, Mrs. Barry, Mrs. Slickler, Mrs. Sallie Henry and Mrs. Martha Henry.

Vestry Votes Improvements To Church

At the monthly meeting of the Vestry of St. John's Lutheran Church on Tuesday night, two hours of business were transacted. One covers the painting of the iron work of the steeple and the cross. The officers were authorized to negotiate a contract for the performance of this work, completing the renovation of the exterior of the church.

Another important change was made with reference to the Holy Communion services. In as much as many of the members are engaged in caring for resort visitors and due to the fact that many of the young members attend college during the year, it was decided that on August 3 there will be two services at which the Sacrament will be administered. Holy Communion will be administered at 8 a. m. Sunday, August 3 and also at 10:45 a. m.

It was also decided that St. John's will be represented at the annual stewardship meeting for laymen at Allentown on Friday and Saturday, September 27 and 28. Appointment will be made by the pastor, Rev. Dr. P. N. Wohlsein, who presided at the meeting.

A letter from the president of the Lutheran Ministerium of Pennsylvania was read in which the congregation, choir and members were thanked for the fine cooperation at the ordination service on May 21. Two new members were approved by the officers. These members will be received on August 3. Other routine business was transacted.

Mrs. Mary Hahn Honored At Rites

Council Weighs Possibility Of Setting Up Parking Authority

Steps Taken To Alleviate Condition

Stroudsburg council last night set in motion a study of municipal parking in the borough which is to be carried out by the full body of council with the aid of whatever experts are required.

The possibility of establishing a municipal parking authority, similar to those operating in other cities will be thoroughly investigated.

Reports on the annual convention of Pennsylvania Association of Boroughs submitted by Councilman Samuel Lee and Secretary Harold Snyder dealt in part with steps taken by other communities to solve straggling parking problems.

Samuel Miller, plant superintendent and Frank J. McCarthy, engineer for Holland Thread Co., both of whom have only recently been assigned here, told council the lagoons back of the plant on Lower Main St. are to blame for the odor and insects which have been a source of annoyance to residents for many years.

Both men said that neglect in the way of proper maintenance is the chief reason for the nuisance.

They proposed immediate action to create a new lagoon, drain off the old ones and clean them up and then maintain constant treatment of the new system.

Mr. McCarthy said once this is done the odor will be eliminated within less than ten days.

Councilman Ed Doran of the first Ward recited various facts in the case indicating many promises had been made to clear up the annoyance, but there was never any action.

He had Councilman Ed Lawson, president, call on Mrs. John L. Rumsey, Stanley Heller and S. E. Sackley, all residents of the vicinity to relate their experiences with the odor and the insects.

Council also read to the officials a report prepared by Arthur Snee who made an investigation and conducted tests in his laboratory here on liquids found in the lagoon. This report showed production of 14 insects per quart of the liquid.

Council advised the Holland officials they would insist on immediate action on their plan. The officials said they were anxious to clear up the matter as quickly as possible.

Samuel Van Gordon, new health officer, filed his first report showing 61 inspections, careful check of 12 taprooms and four restaurants where various clean-up orders were given. Van Gordon said he had also made four trips to the Holland mill and had asked Mr. Miller and Mr. McCarthy to report to council.

Council voted unanimously to direct Keiper's Laundry to sever its connection immediately with the Stroudsburg sanitary sewer system, to prosecute the concern for not obtaining permission to attach its waste system to the system and to institute suit to recover damages by reason of an unauthorized connection with the sewer system.

A contract for 1,000 feet of two and a half inch hose and 500 feet of one and a half inch hose was awarded the Eureka Hose Co. The resignation of Edward Sheip as a member and secretary of the board of health was received with regrets.

Assessments Decline In 13 Districts Of County

Monroe County assessments failed to keep pace with the rise of real estate values in this area during 1951.

This was one of several conclusions reached by the State Tax Equalization Board in making out its chart of market and assessed values for last year.

Monroe County's 1951 market value was fixed at $89,260,979 and its assessed valuation for county tax purposes at $19,529,269. The percentage of assessed valuation to market value is 21.88. This compares with a ratio of 23.02 per cent in 1950.

The report was issued this week to the office of State Superintendent of Public Instruction Francis B. Haas in Harrisburg.

Copies of the report have been received, locally, by County Superintendent John C. Latts and the county commissioners' office. Of the 20 Monroe County districts, nearly two-thirds showed decreases in percentage of market value as reflected in assessments.

The remaining seven districts showed slight increases. Only three of these, however, (Delaware Water Gap, Jackson and Middle Smithfield) showed substantial increases percentage-wise over the 1950 figures.

The decline is made even more apparent by a nine million dollar increase in Monroe's market value—from $80,857,541 in 1950 to $89,260,979 in 1951.

Percentage decreases were led by Mount Pocono Borough and Stroud Township.

In 1950, the State Tax Equalization Board records showed that real estate in Mount Pocono was assessed at 28.97 of its total market value.

Figures for 1951 reveal that this percentage has declined to 25.78 per cent—a decrease of 3.19 per cent.

Following close on Mount Pocono's heels is the Stroud Township decrease of nearly three per cent.

In 1950 Stroud real estate was assessed at 21.30 per cent of its market (real) value certified by the State board. Last year this figure dropped to 18.42—a decrease of 2.88 per cent for the year.

During this same period, the market value of both districts increased. The assessed valuation either remained static or dropped, however.

In the case of Stroud Township, the assessed valuation itself increased slightly—from $1,156,624 in 1950 to $1,330,152 in 1951—an increase of only $173,528.

Market values, meanwhile, jumped nearly two million dollars—from $5,429,170 to $7,219,780. (Amount of increase: $1,790,610).

Mount Pocono's market value increased $231,225 during this one-year period—from $1,884,070 in 1950 to $2,115,295 last year. Its assessed value, however, dropped from $545,758 in 1950 to the new figure of $545,323 for 1951.

Decreases are also noted in the ratio of assessed value to market value in 11 other Monroe districts. These are listed below, with the 1950 "assessment percentages" in parentheses immediately following the current figure.

Our Declaration of Independence

Tomorrow is the 176th anniversary of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence by the original thirteen states in Congress at Philadelphia.

The Declaration of Independence is generally regarded as one of the most famous documents in the history of the world. On June 10, 1776, the Continental Congress appointed a committee consisting of Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, John Adams, Roger Sherman and Robert R. Livingston to draft a Declaration of Independence.

Jefferson wrote out a rough draft of the Declaration, which was carefully revised by the committee and presented to Congress for adoption. After some further slight revisions by that body, it was adopted on July 4, 1776.

Most of the famous document consists of a listing of facts in support of charges that the King of Great Britain had committed many acts, "all having in direct object establishment of an absolute Tyranny over these States."

It is in the preamble that we find a statement of principles of freedom which has made this nation the greatest on earth... principles which, perhaps, we of today too frequently do not appreciate and do not protect. They bear repeating here:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the Consent of the governed. That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundations on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness..."

All of these courageous pioneers of freedom of the individual did with this final pledge which they kept:

"And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the Protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes and our sacred honor."

On this 176th anniversary of the Declaration of Independence we would do well to pause in our pleasures, and pledge on our sacred honor to ever defend with our lives, our fortunes the freedoms given to us under this famous document.

'Big Hat, No Cattle'

Members of the British Parliament who are demanding an equal vote with the United States in the conduct of the Korean War haven't offered to share in the fighting on the same basis.

Moreover, while the British Socialists boast that they were responsible for General MacArthur's recall, they might add that their limited war doctrine also was responsible for the seemingly endless stalemate in which we find ourselves today.

Their free advice hasn't suggested any honorable way out of this dilemma.

Somehow this situation reminds us of the loud-talking ranchman who applied to a Western banker for a loan.

The banker asked a neighboring Indian if he regarded the rancher as a good credit risk. The chief pondered the question a moment, and replied:

"Big hat, no cattle."

These Days - - By George E. Sokolsky

The Infalible One of the weaknesses of the great is that they come to believe that they are infalible. Herbert Hoover once told me that after a newly-elected President settles down in the White House, enmeshed in the heavy affairs of mankind, he becomes a prisoner of his staff. That is not limited to Presidents. Yes-men surround greatness with the sweet agreement of the sycophant.

I could not help thinking of that as I was reading Charles Callan Tansill's magnificent study of half a century of steps that led to war, "Back Door to War." Professor Tansill spent five years reading documents, many of which have never been published, and he comes up with a situation that few, if any of us, knew at the time. Yet millions of human lives have been destroyed and distorted because an error of judgment was made by Neville Chamberlain. History abounds with errors of judgment that prove, beyond cavil, that only God is infalible and that when the great make a mistake, it is often a great mistake.

Tansill tells how, in 1938, the German military men and civilians were sure that they could push Hitler aside. They could get rid of him. These Germans did not want war. Tansill gives the list as follows: "... In Germany a large group of important persons were plotting to push Hitler aside and present a program that would preserve the peace of Europe. This group included such outstanding army officers as Colonel General Ludwig von Beck, Chief of Staff; Colonel General Kurt von Hammerstein, Commander in Chief of the German army from 1930 to 1934; General Erwin von Witzleben; General Georg Thomas, head of the Economic Division of the planning staff of the army; General Eduard Wagner, Quartermaster General; Major General Hans Oster; and Colonel Claus von Stauffenberg. Admiral Canaris was especially active in this plot to overthrow Hitler. The civilians included Carl Friedrich Goerdeler, one-time Mayor of Leipzig; Hans E. Gisevius; Johannes Popitz, Prussian Minister of Finance; and Ulrich von Hassell, former German ambassador in Rome."

Tansill produces the evidence that "... General Beck sent the entire General Staff a memorandum which presented the view that hostilities with Czechoslovakia would bring about a general European war which Germany could not win. General Walther von Brauchitsch approved the main points in the memorandum and took it to Hitler in July 1938 with definite words of warning. The Fuehrer immediately brushed it aside and continued his Sudeten program."

General Beck went further. He actually told the British of the menace and suggested that the British send Hitler a stiff note that violation of Czech neutrality would mean war. Chamberlain, who was fully apprised of the facts, preferred to appease Hitler because it was his judgment that if war came immediately, Great Britain would not be ready.

Here is a mighty incident in history. The Chief of Staff of a country pleads with another country to take steps to prevent war. Beck, whose business it was to fight and win a war, realized that there was little time to keep his country out of war.

The German plotters were ready to take action against Hitler on September 14, 1938, and just as they got ready, Chamberlain decided to visit Hitler at Berchtesgaden. Actually, on September 28 "... when General von Witzleben went to the office of General Halder to receive the orders that would start the Putsch, a message came through to the effect that Chamberlain and Daladier would meet Hitler at Munich on the following day. This news checked the immediate execution of the plot, and the appeasement so strengthened Hitler's position that all plans to push him aside had to be indefinitely postponed..."

What would have happened had Hitler been pushed aside or killed in September, 1938. We do not know, but one can speculate on how wonderful the world would be today had World War II not taken place.

The error was Neville Chamberlain's. He mistook the character of Hitler. He misunderstood the information at his disposal. He did not trust those who desired peace; he trusted one of the deepest scoundrels in human history. He committed his country—to war and disaster. It was a mistake. Does it matter whose mistake in the vast tragedy of our times?

Try And Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

John Crosby warns radio artists and spellers of commercials that no matter how exaggerated and absurd their claims or advice may be, some segment of the great American audience will most certainly take them seriously. When a bleak ditty named "Gloom-y Sunday" (popularly known as the Suicide Song) was on the Hit Parade, for instance, people would phone in requests to have it played and bump themselves off while it was on the air. Arthur Godfrey once kiddingly remarked that the cellophane wrapper on a pack of popular brand cigarettes could be used as fish bait. Not only did thousands take him at his word, but a girl friend of Crosby's caught a two-pound bass as a result.

The chances of quadruplets occurring are one in 5,999,921.

Washington Report

—by Fulton Lewis, Jr.

Chicago — I had to chase half way around the world for proof that the State Department is busy giving President Syngman Rhee, of South Korea, the same treatment that cost Chiang Kai-shek control of China.

The Voice of America is doing the hatchet work on Rhee for Secretary of State Dean Acheson's left wingers. But I had to head to Korea for the documents. Nobody in the State Department, it seems, ever listens to the VOA. So officials didn't know what was going on in Korea. That, as usual, is a lie.

Rhee has been busy fighting the war against Communists and he hasn't had the time or money to set up his own information and propaganda radio in South Korea. Anyway, the VOA said that it would be glad to do it for him in conjunction with the United Nations, and Rhee thought that was a nice gesture. It may wind up by costing him the support and friendship of his people. He has already shut up the VOA temporarily in South Korea, and I, for one, can't say that I would blame him if he shut it off permanently.

Rhee is ducking assassins while trying to set up a two-house form of government in South Korea, patterned after our own House and Senate, with his country's President to be elected by the people. There is a one-house assembly now which Rhee elects the president, and it isn't working very well, especially since it is infested with South Korean Reds. Rhee has jailed a few of them, an act that incensed Acheson, the VOA and the United Nations. Two of the jail-birds have already confessed, but the VOA has yet to inform the South Korean people of this fact.

Rhee is known and trusted by his people. He helped rally them when the North Koreans attacked his country. He deserves a fair chance to get a Democratic government working in South Korea, even if Acheson's left wing blabber mouths in the VOA can't stomach the thought.

On June 6, 1952, the VOA broadcast this statement all over South Korea:

"Rhee has become an intolerable nuisance and danger."

The VOA is in South Korea at Rhee's sufferance and the U. S. is supposed to be helping South Koreans win the war there. But, as you can see, Rhee doesn't dare turn his back on his allies for fear of a political knifing.

If there is opposition to Rhee in South Korea it seems only fair to let the South Koreans settle it. That's democracy, but the VOA has never heard of it, apparently. And I can't help but ask what would happen here if representatives of the Korean government in Washington started a series of daily broadcasts and press releases criticizing the corruption and political thievery of the Truman-Acheson administration? I'd be happy to help finance the project.

What it all boils down to is that the State Department and the United Nations are determined to ruin Rhee. Such things as this are spewed out of the left wing sewer in the State Department for broadcast over the South Korean VOA network.

"It is true that the U. N. Charter forbids any intervention upon domestic affairs, but President Rhee has already exceeded the limits. He disregarded the U. N. and trampled under his feet all principles for which the U. N. army is committed in Korea."

Here is another: "The President's high handed methods have brought Korea face to face with a political crisis. First it might affect unfavorably the combat ability of ROK armies which form the mainstay of the security of the UN Command. The United States, which is engaged in a life and death struggle with a dictatorial regime, cannot very well permit another such regime bidding for power in South Korea."

Finally the VOA got down to cases. It broadcast this to the South Koreans, always, of course, quoting someone else, but still spewing out the poison. "The fact that President Rhee has been for many years a powerful leader of South Korea is not the same as saying he has been a popular one. We believe he can be called to a great extent, a pocket edition of Chiang Kai-shek."

Well, there it is. You know that Acheson and Truman did to Chiang. Rhee is next, if he lets the VOA get away with it. Maybe he ought to throw every VOA employee out of South Korea for inciting rebellion specifically and generally for sticking their twitching noses in his business. If he doesn't he's done.

Looking At Life —by Erich Brandeis

This is not a very appetizing story, so if you are inclined to be somewhat squeamish, I would advise you not to read it until several hours after breakfast, lunch or dinner.

However, after having eaten my midday meal in New York restaurants for many years I am somewhat more hardened than most non-New Yorkers and can stand almost anything.

Up in Kingham, Mass., the citizens are up in arms over a terrible affront on the part of a Rockland firm which has for some time been collecting the town's garbage to feed to pigs.

But recently it raised its contract price to the town by $2,100, claiming that the quality of the garbage was much poorer than last year and that no self-respecting pigs could thrive on that kind of stuff.

So the firm says it had to buy additional nourishment for the animals in order to satisfy their appetites and to make them suitable for the market.

A town meeting was called and the voters refused, by a considerable majority, to pay more than ploded. "All she has to show for two years is Happiness!"

Hollywood —by Gene Handsaker

Hollywood—Pier Angeli, who's 20, says she has never been in love.

"I like, you know, somebody," she explained. But "somebody," it developed, meant no one in particular.

Girls are brought up much more strictly in Italy than in America, the tiny Italian charmer went on. Very few Italian families let teen-age daughters go out on dates. Pier went to a nuns' school, "and if I was not home in 10 minutes, my father came after me."

All her dates, in 11 months in Hollywood, have been in groups that included her twin sister and usually their mother. "I've been telling Mama, 'You can't live in America like you do in Italy,'" Pier said. Now Mama lets the girls go out sometimes without going along.

But as for love, Pier said, "My career comes first."

The twin sister goes by the name of Marisa Pavan at 20th Century-Fox, where she is under contract. The household includes another sister, Patrizia, 4, and a collie named Duke, a son of Lassie. "M-G-M gave him to me when I broke my wrist," Miss Angeli explained.

That happened in a fall during rehearsal for her present role as a trapeze performer in "Equilibrium," a segment of a three-part film titled "The Story of Three Loves." Pier showed her palms, thickly calloused from trapeze workouts now that her wrist has healed. It's the first venture of her life in such athletics.

I'd asked Miss Angeli to compare American and Italian men. "Boys" was the word I really used, for with her fluffy, shoulder-length dark-reddish hair and searching eyes she seems almost childlike.

"A boy of 22 in Italy is settled."

Convention Video Program

Millions will be spent by radio and video to cover the political conventions. The public will not be denied a single dull moment.

Programming in the routine airwave manner is suggested somewhat along the following line:

Opening Day, 8 p.m. — Overture, "Some Disenchanted Evening," "I'll Be Seeing You With All the Old Familiar Faces," "I Can Dream, Can't I?"

8:15—Theme Song: "It's Been A Long, Long Time."

8:45 — "Against the Storm," starring all favorite sons with fewer than ten votes.

9 p.m. — "Kitchen Kapers," (Watch the party bosses and try to figure out what's cooking.)

9:15—"Blind Date." (Featuring the destiny boys.)

9:30—"Six-Gun Playhouse," or "Seating the Disputed Delegates," Musical accompaniment: "Don't Fence Me In," "Louisiana Hayride," "You Know You Belong to Somebody Else" and "Deep In the Hurt of Texas."

9:45—"Down You Go," by the Credentials Committee.

10—"The Rumpus Room." (Sequel to the above.)

10:15 — Group rendition by party workers from all state: "I'm in Love with Some Wonderful Pie."

10:20—Barbara Welles. Not to be confused with Mineral Wells.

10:25 — "Twenty Questions." (But no answers.)

10:30 — Playlet by GOP National Committee "I Remember Mommer; also 'Grandmommer and the Last Republican President.' (At the Democratic Convention the video sketch will be "Uncle Dough's Cabin.")

11—Interruption for a summary of the day's baseball games. (Just to clear the atmosphere and get back into a world of good clean sportsmanship, comprehensible operations, understandable signals and regular rules.)

knows what he's doing," she said. "He's like a man here in America of 45. In Italy a man of 45 is old. The hardships and suffering of the war changed so many people. They are very serious; they have so much problems." (Her sprightly, still imperfect English is intriguing.)

"But here in America, where life is so much easier, you see men of 45 dancing and having fun."

Survey Shows Higher Operating Costs Have Forced Newspaper Prices Up In Many Cities

New York (AP) — Many newspaper readers in cities across the nation are paying a few cents more each week for their papers since the announcement in May that the price of Canadian newspaper was going up to a record high.

An Associated Press survey yesterday showed prices for single copies, home deliveries or mail subscriptions have been boosted by newspapers in more than 40 cities.

The number of newspapers reported in the survey—57—as having acted to date, is small compared with the total of around 1,750 daily newspapers published in this country.

But many other papers indicated price increases were under consideration. And some boosted their charges earlier in the year, when higher cost of newsprint was anticipated.

Most of the newspapers cited the newsprint price boost as a major factor in their decisions, at the same time pointing to continuing advances in other costs of production.

The newsprint hike, effective June 16, brought the price per ton to $126 at New York, highest in history.

Today's Associated Press survey showed:

Readers who buy their papers on the street or at news stands in several Eastern and Midwestern cities are finding prices one to two cents higher per copy. In the San Francisco Bay area, some increases of three cents have been posted with the single copy price now ten cents.

Sunday papers in a number of cities cost three to five cents more.

And in most of the places where single-copy prices have been boosted, the newsboy who delivers the papers to homes is collecting from five to ten cents more weekly from each subscriber.

Newspaper readers in one city were told: "Even after this rate increase, the weekly payments by subscribers will still be less than the cost of the newsprint and ink, delivery cost and carriers' profit."

A Texas circulation manager, reporting general opinion that the newsprint rise will force action by the papers on circulation or advertising rates, said: "We're all talking about it and something has to give."

Hazel Smeltz Is Bride Of Robert Fisher

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Smeltz of 237 South Courtland St., announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Hazel Ann Smeltz, to Robert M. Fisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel R. Fisher, of Boyertown.

They were married in the Lutheran parsonage in Elkhart, Md., on June 23, by Rev. Mr. Feissgill, in a double ring ceremony. They were unattended.

The bride was graduated from East Stroudsburg High School in the class of 1952. She was an honor student and received the East Stroudsburg Exchange Club's "Youth of the Month" award.

Mr. Fisher was graduated from East Stroudsburg State Teachers College also in the class of 1952.

They will make their home in Boyertown until he begins teaching in the fall.

Playschool Coop Plans Second Year

Closing their first successful year and planning for expansion next year, the Pocono Playschool Coop held their final meeting on Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Martin Ellisweig, East Stroudsburg.

Miss Jane McDowell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. McDowell, Stroudsburg, was chosen as the new teacher for next year's playschool. A graduate of this year's class at Centenary Junior College, where she specialized in nursery school training, Miss McDowell spent her summers at Vacation Valley.

From the number of prospective parents interested in the project, the group may find it necessary to hire an additional teacher in the fall, and to divide the school according to age groups.

An additional step forward was the decision of the members to apply for state licensing, insuring that the school meet established standards as to location, material and staff. They also joined the National Association for Nursery Education.

The matter of location will be decided during the summer. The group has been meeting at the Grace Lutheran Church in East Stroudsburg. The new location will probably be also in a church in East Stroudsburg.

The financial report showed the Coop in the black at the close of the school year. However they plan to purchase new outdoor equipment and supplies and will sponsor money-raising activities before the opening of the new year. In this connection it was announced that the Playschool had received a donation of 32 chairs from the Little Red Schoolhouse in New York City.

Mrs. Charles McMahon, president for the first year of the school's existence, presided at the meeting which climaxed with the election of officers for the coming year.

Mrs. Roger Woltjen is president; Mrs. Harold Walz, first vice president; Mrs. Charles McMahon, second vice president; Morgan Hebard, treasurer; Mrs. Lester Katz, recording secretary; Mrs. Neil Josephson, corresponding secretary.

The office of second vice president was established to supervise the educational part of the Playschool. Mrs. McMahon will be assisted in this by a board of three elected from the membership plus professional volunteers from the community. This year's volunteers will include Carl Seacor, East Stroudsburg; Roger Dunning, Stroudsburg; Miss Eloise Bryan, psychologist; Miss Marie Brown, kindergarten supervisor at the college. The board plans to meet with the teacher to evaluate the program.

A meeting will be held in September prior to the opening of the playschool when all prospective parents will be welcomed.

Homecoming Is Taylor's Best Birthday Gift

It was a memorable birthday for Arthur Taylor who welcomed home his son and his family who have been in Hawaii for the past three years. A family party was held in his honor at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Carl Storm last night.

His son, Hugh Z. Taylor, CCS, U.S. Navy, has been serving as chief commissary steward in Hawaii. His wife and three children, Hugh Zachary, Grace and Patricia, have been in Hawaii with him. He will be stationed at San Diego, Cal.

Other guests last night included Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Taylor, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Storms. Another son, Frank Taylor, was not able to be present.

Nicholas Berish Home Is Scene Of Triple Party

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Berish entertained at their home here on Sunday in honor of the birthday anniversary of the former's mother, Mrs. Mary Berish; also being Mr. and Mrs. William Gallagher, Taylor, who are newlyweds and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Metzgar, Mt. Pocono, who were married during the past year.

Their guests included: Mr. and Mrs. John Berish Sr.; Mr. and Mrs. John Berish Jr. and family; Mr. and Mrs. John Solko Sr.; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Solko; all of Hazleton; also Mr. and Mrs. Michael Berish, Newark, N.J.; Mr. and Mrs. Steve Hirko and family, Stockton, Pa.; and the guests on honor.

Lodge Elects Officers For Coming Year

Monroe Council, No. 131, Sons and Daughters of Liberty, held installation of officers for the next six month period on Tuesday night. Deputy State Councilor Tameon Kohl was present from Bright Star Council, Bangor, and served as installing officer was Laura Mae Frank, of Stroudsburg.

New officers are: Councilor, Catherine Shaffer; associate, Flora Garis; vice councilor, Blanche Shaffer; assistant, Marian Teisak; recording secretary, Doris Cramer; assistant, Elsie Counterman; treasurer, Kenneth Adams; financial secretary, Mary McGinnis; guide, Mary Kunkle; inside guard, Kathryn Counterman; outside guard, Ruth Warnick; trustee, Blanche Shaffer; representative to the state session, Mary Kunkle; alternate, Kathryn Counterman.

The councilor reported that new committees would be announced at the next session on July 13, which will begin early with past officers' meeting in joint session for a brush party. Refreshments will be served.

Following the meeting, a covered dish supper was served.

VFW Auxiliary Makes Dressings

Members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary last night held their first session of making dressings for cancer patients in the county, meeting at the Cancer Society's rooms, Sarah St., Stroudsburg, to prepare the bandages.

Mrs. John Stanford, chairman of production, instructed them in making the dressings.

Testimonial Dinner For Rene Kresge

Effort—Mrs. Elizabeth Kresge and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kresge attended a testimonial banquet honoring R. V. Kresge, divisional Supreme Monarch, 1951-52, of the Mid Atlantic Division of the AMOS, playground of the Odd Fellows lodge.

The dinner was held at the American Legion Home, Catsaqua, on June 28.

Rene V. Kresge is closely associated with the IOOF in Monroe County. He joined Effort Lodge No. 1102 on Feb. 12, 1921, and served as noble grand in 1926-27. During that time he also joined the State Belt Encampment and the Star Encampment No. 139 in 1929. He served as Chief Patriarch in 1931-32, and became district deputy Grand Patriarch of Monroe County on June 19, 1931. He joined Canton Bethlehem, No. 13, and Heracles Sanctorum No. 144, AMOS, in 1930, and soon became Grand Monarch.

In 1950, he joined Rachel Brodhead Rebekah Lodge, No. 383, Stroudsburg.

He also has served as secretary of Effort lodge, and in 1941 was elected director of the Odd Fellows Home, Middletown. He is associated with the District Deputies Association of Pennsylvania; the Monroe County Past Grands Association; Luzerne County Past Grands Association; Southern Pennsylvania Past Grands Association; Lehigh County Odd Fellows; and home associate of the SEPA, and a blood donor in the Blood Bank of the IOOF Welfare Bureau.

Speaker at dinner was Rev. Clarence Rahn, Vincent Altomosa was chairman of the dinner; Donald Primrose, Junior Past Supreme Monarch, was toastmaster; and Robert Kemmerer, song leader. The entertainment included music by the Harmonaires, and dancing.

Reunion In Europe For Martin Byrer

Martin Byrer of Spangenberg Ave., returned yesterday after a month in Europe, marked by a reunion with his son, Martin Byrer Jr., now serving with the U.S. Army in Germany.

Mr. Byrer had flown from New York to France, and then to Bavaria to visit his sister. His son, having an unexpected 15-day leave, joined him there, and together they toured Austria, the Tyrol, and Italy.

His son's company on the trip made it an even more eventful one for Mr. Byrer. Although he had been warned by friends in the United States that this was an uneasy time for visiting Europe, he found the Europeans in contrast quite unconcerned about international situations.

They are having such a struggle to come out even with inflated prices that they seem to have little time for worry, he felt.

The weather throughout his trip was beautiful, he reported, although in Venice the temperature was 104, and he acquired quite a sunburn. He was enthusiastic too about the trip by plane.

Mr. Byrer is in charge of the laundry at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

Poor Charlie, this column is never ready for him when he stops by to pick it up. Yesterday he suggested that all I need is a good ghost writer. I think he meant that I'm busier these days than an ant at a Sunday School picnic. But I can't be sure. That word "good" has me worried . . . Speaking of picnics—what are you planning as your family's Fourth of July celebration? A picnic is one diversion that everyone seems always to enjoy, particularly when Wyckoff picnic equipment adds to the pleasure and ease of the day. If it's a fitted basket you need, inexpensive table accessories, outdoor grills, forks for roasting the inevitable wiener, folding chairs, or any of a hundred other articles for "roughing it" comfortably, visit Wyckoff-Sears today. And don't overlook the wonderful relaxation of a hammock. Even the least expensive is literally worth its weight in gold . . . I don't know when my little girl has enjoyed anything quite so much as her Koroseal pool—from Wyckoff's of course! Practically every child in the neighborhood has one, and I notice that when Mary Hosler's Bobby visits his grandparents he brings his along. A pool can be inexpensive or costly—a child doesn't care, so long as it's wet and no soaps involved! . . . I'd better explain, for those of you who don't know that Mary Hosler is our Wyckoff knitting instructor and that "This Is the Hour" to plan those suits and sweaters every family needs come fall . . . My office looks as though an enraged hurricane had just thrown a tantrum. There are boxes for the Welcome Wagon, parcels awaiting exchange, packages to go into tomorrow's mail, and the breeze coming in the window right now ruffles my hair and disposition along with the papers on the desk. Summer breezes are balmy, but they have no respect for order, have they? That's why I vote for Frigidaire air conditioning . . .

Mr. Ernest H. Wyckoff was on the store amplifying system this morning wishing us all a happy Fourth, and "gifting" the employees with more than a year of service to their credit. One isn't supposed to say out loud (it might sound like boasting!) but maybe I can get by with writing that Wyckoff's is a pretty fine place to work. Did you ever stop to notice what cute sport hats we're selling now at our Hat Bar? These past few days I've been helping there during Lizzie Koch's lunch hour, and some of those summer straws, white cottons and "Skipper" caps are mighty chic for the money . . . During the past few days, Miss Mary Collins, supervisor of PRN switchboards for the Seranton district of Bell Telephone Company, has been conducting a census of the calls going over Wyckoff wires. Miss Collins, I am told, impresses on the operators the importance of the cordial greeting that opens our doors wide to those who come shopping by telephone. We enjoy having you shop Wyckoff's whether in person, or through your Wyckoff Shopper, by letter or telephone . . . That's all—except—Have a wonderful holiday! But play it safe. Be happy, sensible, and "Fourth-RIGHT". Now if only I can convey that idea to the children . . .

Kiwanis Club Stages Auction At Meeting

An auction highlighted the Kiwanis Club meeting at the Penn-Stroud Hotel yesterday afternoon. Ralph W. Peters was in charge. Other members of the committee were Walter R. McClelland and Eric Schuchard.

Frank S. LaBar, John E. Watt and George L. Savidge acted as auctioneers. William P. Wells was cashier and Ray Price Jr. and William N. Walter acted as runners. The proceeds will be used for one of the club's projects.

The directors, at a meeting following the club session, voted to back the Little Bigger Baseball League which will consist of four teams. The Kiwanis Club, through the league officials, will look after many business details.

The officers of the league follow: President, E. H. Martin; vice president, Elwood Hintze; secretary, Walter R. McClelland; and treasurer, Wilmer B. Frisbie, all Kiwanians.

The team sponsors are: Line Material Co., International Boiler Works, Monroe Silk Mill and Worthington Mower Co.

The meeting next week will be held at the Wild Animal Farm off Foxtown Hill road at the usual time. The luncheon will be catered by the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

President Gilbert L. Smirz welcomed these visiting Kiwanians: Earl Evans, Bethlehem; Roger Connors, Easton; P. C. Miller, Philadelphia; and Walton F. Deming, Oneonta, N. Y.; also Ervin Perkins, Cincinnati, O.; Christopher Wheeler, Arlington, Va., grandson of A. M. Price, and John Thornton.

Camp Program Open To Public

If you're too old to go to camp, you can get the feel of it anyway Friday night at the YMCA camp at Blakeslee Corners.

The public is invited to attend the camp's 4th of July program, which starts with a movie at 8:30 p.m. Then will come camp songs around a bonfire, dramatic skits, and accordion music.

Civil Defense Approves Radio Land Stations

The State Civil Defense office has approved all of Monroe County's requests for participation in CD radio equipment purchases, Jack Anderson, assistant county CD director, said yesterday.

Latest approvals are for purchase of CD radio land stations for East Stroudsburg Borough, and Polk and Chestnut Hill Townships.

Already approved were the county's main station, to be located at the courthouse, and stations for Barrett and Paradise Townships.

The new approvals are for expense of $236 each for the radio transmitter-receivers. Of this sum, the Federal government will pay $118 and the local district the other half.

Approval of the payment of the local district's share must now be made by the commissioners, borough council and township supervisors involved.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Bob Lehr and not Bob Blair was the man who banged home the hole in one at Glen Brook Country Club on Sunday and the Delaware Water Gap resident used a four iron and not a three iron to navigate the 185-yard 10th hole in one shot. Lehr is a member of the Glen Brook Club and is a frequent visitor to the local rolling fairways. Mike Rubish, pro at Glen Brook, had a chance to set a new course record the other day, but blew it when he took a six on the 17th hole. The next day Mike registered an eagle on the same hole.

The Glen Brook record is held by Leo Heller. Golf will be the big sport during the coming holiday weekend, as every course in the area will be filled to capacity with players from the neighboring large cities and smaller towns. However, the local residents will divide their time between baseball, swimming and picnics, as the Pocono Mountain League, Blue Mountain League and Pocono Mountain Association feature plenty of action tomorrow and Sunday.

Those clubs in the Pocono Mountains which haven't forwarded their permanent rosters to league secretary John Wernett had better get on the stick today and see that he receives the names of 20 permanent players before tomorrow's scheduled action. Clinton Getz, president of the circuit, announced on Tuesday that any team failing to present the required roster will be forced to forfeit all games on the schedule until the roster is in the proper hands. Since the temporary rosters call for 25 players and the permanent for 20, it appears as if there will be a lot of diamond performers released today, although only a few clubs in the circuit have as many as 20 players at the present time.

The Stroudsburg Speedway, formerly known as the Delaware Valley Speedway, will probably not open until Sunday, July 13. It was learned yesterday, although the new owners were hopeful of opening the gates for 1952 tomorrow. However, there is so much work remaining, as far as getting the track in shape is concerned, that it is impossible to name an official opening date at this time. Work is currently going on at the half-mile oval located near the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg Airport. Several special racing programs are listed for the track when it opens, so this column has been informed.

Lehigh Valley's football stock soared recently, when it was learned that Fred Lux, six foot, two inch, 245 pound tackle from Stratford High, had transferred to the camp of the Indians and it was undoubtedly good news to Jim Myers, newly signed grid mentor at Lehigh Valley. Lux held down a tackle berth with Stratford last season and handled the putting duties for the charges of Coach Mike Burein.

Christy Wentzel, headliner among the drivers with the Julie Chittwood Auto Daredrive, was killed at Groveland, Mass., on Tuesday, while doing a roll-over. Wentzel was the outstanding driver with the Chittwood Show when it performed at Sunrise Speedway, Blakeslee, and the Delaware Valley Speedway last summer. Wentzel was competing for the $2,000 that goes to the driver at the end of the season. Christy, a husky individual, was trying for his 50th roll-over when his car burst into flames after hitting the ramp and the popular driver was burned to death.

Lou Baselle, former stock holder in the Stroudsburg Poconos, is almost certain to operate at a financial loss for the first season as owner of the Scranton entry in the class "A" Eastern League. The official paid attendance for the first 32 home games of the Miners was 32,214, or slightly more than 1,000 paying customers a contest. At this same rate the Scranton club will have a tough time drawing 75,000 for the present campaign. A special Stroudsburg Night held in July will undoubtedly help swell the home attendance for the Miners, if only by a small amount.

Roger Stenier, captain of the Palmerton High football team, has transferred from St. Bonaventure to Detroit University. The move came after the Bonnies dropped football as a varsity sport following the 1951 campaign. Stenier received an offer from North Carolina, but chose Detroit instead. Virtually all of those who played football at St. Bonaventure last season will attend new schools this fall. John Arnt, a member of the football, basketball and baseball teams at East Stroudsburg High school, is working on the bridge construction project at Delaware Water Gap this summer.

The Eagles won the first half title in the Monroe County Softball League, winning 11 straight games after dropping the opening contest of the present campaign. Nelson Smith, former basketball player at Pocono High school, is scheduled to depart from Korea for his home in Tannersville on August 1. Reports indicate that softball for girls may be added to the baseball and softball agenda in the Stroudsburgs next summer.

Penn-Stroud Knocks Peoples Coal From First Place Tie

Penn-Stroud Hotel knocked Peoples Coal Co. out of a first place deadlock in the Stroudsburg Little League yesterday, as the former came up with a thrilling 8-7 victory before a large crowd at the circuit's official Little League park.

The win also moved the Penn-Stroud club a half-game closer to the leaders, although the team still remains in last place, Peoples Coal dropped to third.

Security Trust and the National Bank continue to remain double-headed for the number one position at the present time. However, the one of the two top teams will have to drop from the top spot today, as Security Trust and the National Bank are scheduled to clash on the same field, at 6:30 p. m.

Warren Harker had definitely contrasting records as they pitched the Chicago Cubs to a doubleheader sweep, 8-3 and 3-0, over the Pittsburgh Pirates before 16,453 paying customers yesterday.

Miner scored his eighth triumph, fourth over Pittsburgh, on a yard of 13 hits in the free swinging opener that produced a total of 27 assorted safeties.

Torgeson, Yvars Fined
Boston, (AP)—Boston Braves' outfielder-first baseman Earl Torgeson was fined $100 yesterday for slugging New York Giant catcher Sal Yvars in a last night's game and Yvars drew a $25 fine for breaking Torgeson's bat.

Nicholson's Homer Enables Phils To Win Pair
Brooklyn, (AP)—Righthander Robin Roberts and Russ Meyer pitched the Philadelphia Phillies to a sweep of the doubleheader with Brooklyn yesterday, 4-3, and 2-1, to cut the Dodgers' first place lead over New York to three games. The Giants missed a grand opportunity by dropping a 2-1 decision to the Boston Braves.

Bad Throw
A pinch hit home run by Bill Nicholson following an eighth inning walk to Connie Ryan won the nightcap for the Phils after Roberts had chalked up his 11th victory with a six-hitter in the opener.

Nicholson batted for Meyer. Meyer allowed seven hits and pitched shutout ball until the seventh when Smokey Burgess' wild throw on Gil Hodges' safe punt permitted Andy Pafko, who had singled, to score from first base.

Roberts allowed only three hits until the seventh, Jackie Robinson homering with one on in the fourth. A single by Hodges, an infield out and Rocky Nelson's pinch hit single netted another Brooklyn run in the seventh.

Chris Van Cuyk, the Brooklyn starter, struck out a Richie Ashburn, the first batter he faced, but didn't retire another man with the next four Philly batters hitting safely for two runs. Clyde King took over and yielded a run in the fourth on a double by Ryan and a single by Willie Jones. Mel Clark's triple paved the way for what proved to be the winning run in the sixth.

Tucker's Eagles Down Softball Foes

Tucker's Chevrolet won over Ronson, 10-8, at the East Stroudsburg Junior High School field, and the Eagles made doubly certain of the first half title with a 3-2 nod over Worthington Mower, at the Stroudsburg Playground, in yesterday's Monroe County Softball League action.

Ronson fought back to battle Tucker's contingent to the wire before bowing on the East Stroudsburg field, as both clubs came up with five-run innings.

The Eagles had to fight off a last ditch rally by Worthington Mower in the bottom of the final inning to escape with the one-run victory, after entering the last count on the long end of a 3-0 count.

League officers and team managers held a business meeting at the Monroe County YMCA after last night's game, at which time plans for the all-star games were discussed.

Pittsburgh, (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates outplayed left-handed pitcher Joe Mauer and outfielder Eric Dusk to their Hollywood club in the Pacific Coast League yesterday.

Brooklyn, (AP)—Righthander Robin Roberts and Russ Meyer pitched the Philadelphia Phillies to a sweep of the doubleheader with Brooklyn yesterday, 4-3, and 2-1, to cut the Dodgers' first place lead over New York to three games. The Giants missed a grand opportunity by dropping a 2-1 decision to the Boston Braves.

Bad Throw
A pinch hit home run by Bill Nicholson following an eighth inning walk to Connie Ryan won the nightcap for the Phils after Roberts had chalked up his 11th victory with a six-hitter in the opener.

Nicholson batted for Meyer. Meyer allowed seven hits and pitched shutout ball until the seventh when Smokey Burgess' wild throw on Gil Hodges' safe punt permitted Andy Pafko, who had singled, to score from first base.

Roberts allowed only three hits until the seventh, Jackie Robinson homering with one on in the fourth. A single by Hodges, an infield out and Rocky Nelson's pinch hit single netted another Brooklyn run in the seventh.

Chris Van Cuyk, the Brooklyn starter, struck out a Richie Ashburn, the first batter he faced, but didn't retire another man with the next four Philly batters hitting safely for two runs. Clyde King took over and yielded a run in the fourth on a double by Ryan and a single by Willie Jones. Mel Clark's triple paved the way for what proved to be the winning run in the sixth.

Schoonover To Pitch Today As Pocono A.C. Plays Host To West Bangor In Important Tilt

Pocono A.C. will attempt to fight its way back to a .500 footing in the Blue Mountain League today, when the charges of Manager John Schoonover tangle with West Bangor, at Gordon Giffels field. The game is scheduled to get underway at 6:30 p.m.

This contest was originally scheduled as a Friday tussle, but was moved to Thursday by the mutual consent of both clubs.

Manager John Schoonover is listed as the starting pitcher for the home club, as it fights to even the season's record at seven wins and the same number of setbacks. The A.C. contingent dropped a 4-1 verdict to Stockertown in its most recent outing.

Both clubs have broken even in two meetings thus far this season.

Pocono A.C. is scheduled to invade Portland on Sunday, with Alden "Red" Fetherman, scheduled to do the pitching.

Tomorrow's schedule will feature three games, as Johnsonville plays at Portland, Stockertown at Tatum and East Bangor at Roseto. All games except the Stockertown-Tatum tussle is listed for 2:30 p.m. Stockertown will invade Tatum at 10 a.m.

Wesley Werkheiser slashed a grand-slam home run over the left field fence in the sixth inning of yesterday's East Stroudsburg Little League contest, but the five runs scored in the final round fell one run short of the mark for the National Bank, as Cramer's Lumber Co. accounted for a wild scoring 21-20 victory. The game was played at the circuit's own field.

The National Bank failed to score in the top of the fourth, otherwise each club scored at least one run in each half-inning played, during the twilight battle.

Today's schedule calls for Peters-Arnold-Howell to tangle with the Methodists, at 6:30 p. m. At 3:30 p. m., the PAH "B" team meets the Methodists "B" club. Both games will be played on the East Stroudsburg Little League field.

Loney Named Commissioner Of Circuit

Warren "Mag" Loney, well known sports figure in the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg area, was named commissioner of the Pocono Mountain League by Clinton Getz, league president, it was announced last night by John Wernett, circuit secretary.

Loney is one of the all-time great athletes at Stroudsburg High, being particularly brilliant in basketball, a game in which he starred until last season.

The 1230 Hamilton St., Stroudsburg, resident, is a member of the Stroudsburg school board and is particularly interested in all forms of sports. Loney is past-president of the Varsity "S" club and also plays with the Eagles, first half champions of the Monroe County Softball League.

Replacement
Loney succeeds Marshall Bonner, Tophanna, who was unable to continue in the role of commissioner, it was reported.

Wernett also announced that any team not having its permanent roster in his hands by game-time tomorrow would be forced to forfeit its contest.

Five games will feature all 10 teams in the circuit tomorrow, with 2 p.m. listed as the official starting time for single games and 1:30 for doubleheaders.

The doubleheaders will feature Tannersville at Barrett, Ansonia at Tophanna, and Lake Harmony at Saylorsburg. Single games will be Kunklehill playing at Reeder's and Bushkilltown invading West End A.C.

Opening Date
Plans call for games to be played on Friday, at 6:15 p.m., and Saturday, at 2 p.m., on two different fields, each week.

It was also learned that the circuit hopes to open its season on Friday, July 18. However, practice sessions will begin next week.

Each team will have 15 uniformed players and two uniformed managers or coaches.

Shantz Captures Fourteenth Win

Bangor Takes Measure Of Nazareth, 6-5

Bangor—Joe Heard went on another hitting spree yesterday and the E. H. Evans Post of Bangor took the measure of Nazareth, 6-5, in a Northampton County American Legion League baseball game played here at Memorial Park.

Heard blasted his fourth home run in six games in the first inning, with two mates aboard, to give his club a 3-0 lead at that point in the offense.

The Bangor High School student doubled in the third to drive home the fourth run of the game for his team and then fled to deep center to plate one of two runs in the fifth round for the winning contingent. In all, Heard batted in five of the six winning runs.

Nazareth tallied all its counters in the fifth inning, as Bob Egbert came up with six scoreless frames against the invading Nazareth foe.

Two Games Scheduled For Association

Though not full-course, the diamond menu to be presented to fans of the area served by the Pocono Mountain Association over the holiday weekend is nonetheless of substantial proportions, what with two games scheduled for tomorrow and four for Sunday.

Today's engagements are at two widely-separated points—St. Catherine's of Moscow at Gouldsboro and Daleville at Mount Cobb. The Gouldsboro affair is a feature of the 20th annual American Legion picnic and, as always, should draw about 2,000. Mount Cobb, in its role of host, hopes to average six successive setbacks at the hands of Kurdziel's Boosters.

Sad Sam Curtis, a lefty, will be the Goldie's mound choice, against the Saint's Johnny Taylor, who via last week's one-hitter against Maple Lake, has proved that he has returned to his form of 1951. This is a battle for fourth place, Gouldsboro leading Moscow by a mere half game.

Haines Listed

Bob Haines, who surprised all and sundry by turning in a four-hit, 15-0 job against what many believed an unbeatable Tobyhanna troupe, will go for Daleville against Mount Cobb. The latter's manager, Stan Prokop, plagued by the absence of a pitcher all season long, will finally come up with one for this contest. The Mountaineers in sixth place, three games behind leading Newfoundland, sport the best team batting average in the league.

Sunday's schedule is a mixture of what appears to be two toss-ups and a brace of apparent "sure things." In the former category is the meeting of the league-leading Newfoundland Bears against the runner-up Daleville Boosters, who would be virtually tied should they trip Mount Cobb tomorrow. Billy "Lefty" Herring, who bats as well as he pitches, will be the Bears' flinging selection against the Boosters' Gary Weidner.

Tobyhanna no doubt will be on the rebound when it tackles Mount Cobb at the latter place.

Three Games Scheduled

Barrett Lions and Mt. Pocono Rotary club at Pocono Manor, in a Pocono Mountains Little League game today, while Barrett Rotary and Pocono Lions, of the same circuit, meet at Pocono Pines. These games are listed for 6:30 p. m. Barrett Lions and Barrett Rotary clash at Siglin field, at Canadensis, tomorrow, at 10 a. m., in a makeup of a postponed game.

McCosky's Single Enables Indians To Trip Browns, 4-3

Cleveland (AP)—Barney McCosky's pinch single with the bases loaded and one out in the 10th inning yesterday settled another overtime battle between the Cleveland Indians and the St. Louis Browns, Cleveland winning 3-2.

McCosky's single scored Dale Mitchell, who had doubled, and gave the Indians the victory. A pinch single by "Hank" Majeski gave the Indians a 4-3 victory over the Browns in 19 innings Tuesday night.

Mike Garcia and Gene Bearden were opposing pitchers at the start of this affair, which began less than 13 hours after the 19-inning marathon was brought to a close at 1:10 this morning.

The Browns' southpaw was removed in the last of the eighth with two on and two out, and Dave Madison stopped the rally. Garcia was removed with a runner on third and one out in the ninth.

After the Browns went out in order in the 10th, Mitchell left off for Cleveland with a double to left center. Rosen sacrificed and then Larry Doby and Harry Simpson were passed intentionally, filling the bases.

McCosky was inserted as a pinch hitter for Joe Tipton and he lined Madison's first offering to center field for a single.

St. Louis .000 010 100 0—2 10 0
Cleveland .100 100 000 1—3 9 1

Braves Decision Giants, 2-1

Boston, (AP)—Rookie Second Baseman Jack Dittmer's first major league homer, a two-run blast off Monte Kennedy in the seventh—was all Southpaw Warren Spahn needed yesterday as the Boston Braves snapped a six-game losing string with a 2-1 verdict over the New York Giants.

Spahn, who had dropped his last four starts, locked in a pitching duel with Kennedy and it was a scoreless tussle until the Giants' seventh.

In that frame, leadoff man Al Dark dropped second when Earl Torgeson reached his fly ball to left field. Don Mueller sacrificed him to third and Sal Yvars was walked intentionally. Rigney batted for George Wilson and fouled out to outfielder Sibby Sisti, Dark scoring afterwards.

Kennedy, who now is 2-2, got George Crowe to pop up and then whiffed slugger Ed Mathews in the Boston seventh before Johnny Logan singled. Dittmer—a recent acquisition from the Tribe's Milwaukee farm in the American Association—then belted the ball over the right field bull pen.

Spahn, who gave up five hits, kept the second place New Yorkers in check the rest of the way to run his seasonal slate to 7-8. He walked two and fanned 10 to bring his total to 97 for the year.

New York .000 000 100—1 5 1

Nazareth Card Set

Nazareth — The patron-pleasing policy of holding two feature events—each 20 laps—at the Nazareth Speedway will continue on Sunday, 2:30 p.m., when all-star stock cars race on the well-groomed and dustless half-mile clay saucer. Promoter Gary Gordon, who awarded trophies to Otto Harvi and Ed Rieker last week, will present similar honors to winners of this week's features.

Red Sox Use One Big Frame To Nip Yanks

New York (AP)—Al Benton, 39-year-old relief specialist, retired seven straight New York Yankee batters yesterday to preserve a 5-4 victory for Sid Hudson and the Boston Red Sox.

Benton's sparkling performance, plus a five-run blast against Eddie Lopat in the sixth inning, moved the Sox to within 3½ games of the league-leading Yankees.

Bounce Back

Lopat and Hudson were locked in a 0-0 duel entering the sixth, when Boston scored five times on four hits and an error. "Hoot" Evers knocked in two of the tallies with a bases-loaded single.

The Yanks bounced back, however, and scored twice in their half of the sixth and picked up two more in the seventh.

Boston .000 005 000—5 11 1
New York .000 002 200—4 6 1

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

THURSDAY, JULY 3, 1952
March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Look forwardly upon problems and you can solve most with energy. Aries can get better results by taking things philosophically; deliberating, not rushing.
April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Little difference from Aries now. Stress comes about, and in a new way. Give thought before starting tasks, duties.
May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—Need sound balance, common sense in affairs today. Some unfairness shown in late day likely. Be careful throughout.
June 22 to July 21 (Cancer)—Much self-determination required in friendships. Some may appear during the hours. A willingness to listen, to tolerate brings greater assistance and achievement.
July 22 to August 21 (Leo)—Public relations indicate upward trend. Ex-lead yourself to make up for past days. Full measure of amenable effort will bring new gains, happy leisure hours.
August 22 to September 21 (Virgo)—Determined effort and early start will bring new and lasting results. Planetary vibrations favor your talents. Be free from in what you do.
September 22 to October 21 (Libra)—May find some puzzling problems, confusion, but stick on with Libra's power of foresight and you should have little difficulty getting results.
October 22 to November 21 (Scorpio)—Some minor opposition; don't let back and let it hamper your paramount purpose. You have the ability to cope with obstacles, use it now and achieve well.
November 22 to December 21 (Sagittarius)—Stimulating, fast-paced duties in business-like manner. Your personality can play important part, especially in selling, making contracts, Romance rules.
December 22 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Be careful what signed you take in personal affairs, discussions that involve property, loans, legal matters.
January 22 to February 21 (Aquarius)—Some unattractive spots for business and personal today. Rate activities according to importance, but don't retard or stop anything new you have started. Initiative favored.
February 22 to March 21 (Pisces)—Just one of those days. The energetic logical thinker will get his, others will experience no so results. You may have to exert more to keep pace with events.
YOH HOEN TOYAH—The Moon is your planet. You are industrious and like good fun, but may be too frugal in domesticity. Don't become annoyed at little differences, ordinary tribulations. Occupations dealing with the public or work having contact with the sea, real estate, banking suited to your aptitudes. Birthdate of Henry Grant, historic Irish statesman.

Vacation Bureau Distributing Auto Tags Publicizing Poconos

By James B. Gaffney

Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau this week received a shipment of metallic car plates to publicize the Pocono region.

Jacob Watchman, executive secretary of the bureau said the plates for the front of automobiles are being sold for 50 cents and the back for 25 cents. The total shipment of 5,000, with more to be received, provided sales warrant and the steel strike does not interfere.

The plates display the word "Poconos" written in large print across a map of the State. The word "Pennsylvania" appears to the left at the top and "Playground" to the bottom right. Permission to attach this type plate on the front of vehicles already has been received from the Commonwealth.

Marsh plans to operate the station, located in the west wing of the motel, by himself and has set a strenuous schedule to follow -- 8 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Pennsylvania Power & Light Co. yesterday filed with Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission the necessary registration statement covering the recently announced issue of 100,000 shares of new preferred stock. This preferred stock issue will be underwritten by a group of investment bankers to be headed by the First Boston Corp. and Drexel & Co.

The proceeds from the sale of this issue will be added to the general fund of the company and will be used for the utility's construction program.

The utility expects to file a registration statement covering this issue of new preferred stock with the Securities and Exchange Commission on July 8.
